Board of disabilities welcomes newest board member

(Lebanon, OH) – Lebanon resident, Bryan Marsh is thrilled to be serving as the newest board member of the Warren County Board of Developmental Disabilities (WCBDD). Marsh was sworn in by Warren County Probate Judge Joseph Kirby, and attended his first board meeting in March.

With a background in business, Marsh has served in a variety of sales and sales management roles over the course of his career. While attending Miami University, Marsh met his wife Jennifer, who now teaches French at Lebanon Junior High and High School. They have been residents of Lebanon for 25 years, and have two children.

“We live in a vibrant and caring community. Our family feels fortunate to be surrounded by so many incredible members of this organization who have helped our family over the years,” expressed Marsh.

“I have been so impressed with everyone that I have met in this organization. It is evident that there is a great deal of passion and commitment to helping and serving others, which is inspiring to me,” Marsh added.

“This is my chance to serve as an advocate for many individuals and their families who rely on the many programs we offer. I look forward to learning quickly and helping in any way I can to continue building upon the excellent foundation that is in place.”

Board members of the Warren County Board of Developmental Disabilities serve four-year terms, and may serve no more than three consecutive terms. All board meetings are open to the public, and take place at 6:00 p.m. on the third Monday of every month via Zoom. The next meeting will be held at 6:00 p.m. on May 17, 2021.
